

Privacy Policy for the Metropolitan Community College Web Sites

We collect no personal information about you when you visit any of the Metropolitan Community College (MCC) websites unless you choose to provide this information to us. Our web servers do collect certain information automatically.

While you browse the web sites, our operating systems may record the following information (This does not include any personally identifiable information):

- The name of the domain and/or IP address from which you accessed our web site.
- The date and time any page on our site was accessed.
- The address (also called the URL) of the web site from which any page on this site was linked.
- The type of browser being used, such as "Netscape Version X.X" or "Internet Explorer Version X.X".
- The type of operating system you use such as Macintosh, Unix, or Windows.
- The pages you visit.

On public non secure sites (no userid or password required):

This information is only used to monitor traffic and improve these sites and to identify tampering with our web sites. If tampering with these web sites is detected, the information gathered by us will be furnished to the proper authorities.

On secure sites (userid or password required):

Secure websites may record login attempts and domain and/or IP addresses from which the attempt was made. This information is used to identify unauthorized access or attempted access to our web sites. If unauthorized access to or tampering with these web sites is detected, the information gathered by us will be furnished to the proper authorities.

If you send us personal information

If you choose to provide us with personal information, as in e-mail with a comment or question, or by filling out a form with your personal information and submitting it to us through our web site, we use that information to respond to your message and to help us get you the information you have requested. We do not share your e-mail with any other organization, unless required to do so by state or federal law.

On secure sites (userid or password required):

Your personal data stored in these systems is protected by federal and state privacy laws including FERPA. Metropolitan Community College will not disclose the information to government agencies or other third parties, unless required to do so by state or federal law.

myMCCKC:

The myMCCKC website uses SSL encryption between the website and your browser to ensure that none of the information you view from this website appears as clear text when being transmitted over the internet.

When a payment is made via the myMCCKC system are made through a third party payment system, the credit card information is stored in encrypted format and only used to complete the payment transaction and any refunds that may be associated with the payment. Metropolitan Community College will not disclose this information to government agencies or other third parties, unless required to do so by state or federal law.

Links to other sites

MCC websites provide links to external sites and resources. We do not control these sites and resources, do not endorse them, and are not responsible for their availability, content, or delivery of services. In particular, external sites are not bound by MCC's online privacy policy; they may have their own policies or none at all.

Use of cookies

Cookies are used on our websites, with some of our secure websites requiring them in order to provide you seamless access to the content available to you on those sites. The cookies do not include any personally identifiable information.

Metropolitan Community College 3200 Broadway Kansas City MO 64111